Ohio Water Service Plans Distribution System Betterment

The City of Washington C. H., faced with the possibility of a higher fire insurance rate classification which could increase premiums considerably, has been assured that the Ohio Water Service Co. will do its part to improve the city's position with the Ohio Inspection Bureau.

Pierce Bailey, Struthers, vice president of the privately owned utility, told City Council Wednesday night that the company is planning an additional feeder line from the water company plant into the distribution system, that the Armbrust well (south of Comfort Lane) will be placed in readiness for instant use and that eight new main tie-ins and a number of new valves will be installed within the next three years.

At the same time, he said, plans have been drawn for an additional 250,000-gallon storage tank in the southwest section of the city at a cost of approximately $75,000.

ACCOMPANYING Bailey to the meeting with Council were Raymond Fuller, representing the Columbus engineering firm of Burgess and Niple, designers of the OWS plant here, and Emerson Warner, local manager for the company. Fire Chief George Hall also took part in the discussion.

The Ohio Inspection Bureau report, received by City Manager James F. Parkinson, grades the Washington C. H. fire protection as "poor for a city of this size," and comments that "fire flows (hydrant flows) are fair to poor throughout the community and are deficient in all areas."

Bailey pointed out that Inspection Bureau tests have shown that actually fire flows have shown a 50 per cent improvement in the last few years in some districts.

THE INSPECTION Bureau recommendations as they apply to water are as follows:

1. Additional elevated storage of approximately a million-gallon capacity should be installed in the south-central portion of the community, supplementing the 1,250,000 (Please turn to page two)

Killing 'Urge'

PRETTY 17-year-old Deena Bonn of Palo Alto, Calif., was shot to death on the campus of Stanford University. Psychiatric tests will be given to Thomas Wallace Cordry III, Stanford sophomore, who confessed the "urge" slaying. "I had an urge to do it," he said. "I've had the same urge before."

UAW Membership Claimed 'Forced'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Herman Miesfeld, a Kohler Co. employee, testified today he joined the United Auto Workers Union under a threat he would be beaten if he didn't.

Miesfeld made the statement to the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee at the second day of its public hearings into the 45-month-old UAW strike against Kohler, manufacturer of plumbing fixtures.

Joseph L. Raub, counsel for the UAW, immediately demanded that Miesfeld's testimony be checked against statements Miesfeld made in other investigations of the Kohler strike and that he be seriously considered for perjury charges.

Chairman McClelland (D-Ark) reserved a ruling, pending a check of testimony Miesfeld said he had given at hearings of the National Labor Relations Board and Wisconsin Employment Relations Board.

Miesfeld testified that Emil Mazy, secretary-treasurer of the UAW, and Don Rand, an international representative, were present when he was threatened.

MIESFELD SAID he opposed the strike, and was captured by union pickets while attempting to cross the picket line. He said he was taken to a soup kitchen in the union maintained outside the Kohler, Wis., plant, and told that it was either sign up with the union or get beat up.

He said he signed, but never did pay dues and "I wouldn't know" whether the union regards him as a member.

The Senate Rackets Committee's public hearings already had set off a long-range row in which Sen. Goldwater (R-Ariz), a committee member, and President Walter Reuther of the United Auto Workers called each other cowards and hypocrites.

The committee is seeking to determine whether the Kohler Co., manufacturers of bathroom fixtures at Kohler, Wis., or the UAW is to blame for violent acts in their 3½-year-old strike dispute. The company and union each has accused the other, and conflicts developed even in the first day's testimony.

A long-standing feud between Goldwater and Reuther flared up again when Reuther, at a news conference, called Goldwater "a political hypocrite and a moral coward."

GOLDWATER, replying in a Senate speech, also called Reuther a coward, a man who "wouldn't know the truth from his left foot," and an immoral hypocrite professing morality.

Reuther had linked his attack on Goldwater with a denunciation of the committee for refusing to let Reuther be a leadoff witness at the hearings Wednesday.

In testimony, three nonstriking Kohler employees swore they had suffered violence at union pickets' hands. Mrs. Alice M. Tracey, a graying, motherly looking widow, testified she was "stomped on" and cursed for trying to cross the picket line in 1954.

She named Jess Ferrazza, an aide to UAW Secretary-Treasurer Emil Mazy, as the man who "stomped" on her feet.

Dale Ostydik, another nonstriker, testified a group of union pickets held him captive and beat and kicked him for crossing the picket line. He quoted Ferrazza as telling him "I should be killed for trying to get into work."

The third nonstriker, Harold Jacobs, said he was kicked, harassed, threatened and cursed for refusing to strike. He said Ferrazza had kicked him, also had kicked another nonstriker in the groin, and was known as a man "handy with his feet" in a fight.

Jacobs testified he "definitely" agreed with Goldwater that the then Sheriff Theodore Mosch had been "dragging his heels" when asked to protect nonstrikers in difficulties with hostile union pickets. He said he knew of no arrest of strikers made by Mosch.

Lawmakers Strike Blow for Romance

LANSING, Mich. (AP)—By a 22-67 vote, the House of Representatives Wednesday killed a bill to raise the cost of a marriage license in Michigan from $2 to $5.

Rep. Adolph Blanchard of Bay City, who handles marriage license applications for 18 years as a county clerk, said: "Five dollars is too much to ask for the privilege of getting married."

Rep. Chester Wozniak of Detroit asserted it was a matter of personal opinion. Married a little over a year, he said: "If I were to do it again, I wouldn't mind paying $5."

An injured stewardess, the only woman aboard, and the copilot struggled through knee-deep snow to a television relay station on top of the mountain and gasped out the first word of the disaster.

Helicopters, snowplows and mountain rescue teams fought through a blizzard to the scene.

The twin-engine Bristol Wayfarer operated by Silver City Airways, was carrying automobile dealers from the Isle of Man in the Irish Sea on a one-day junket to Manchester, only 15 miles from here, to inspect a plant of the Exide Battery Co.

Wiscracking and jovial, the party of 39 businessmen boarded the plane for the 100-mile flight, waving goodbye to wives and children. There was a crew of three.

Thirty-five minutes later, with visibility cut by heavy clouds and the blizzard, the plane smashed to bits against Winter Hill, near the bleak moorlands of Lancashire and only 400 yards from a lonely TV tower.

Stewardess Jennifer Curtis stumbled out of the wreckage with copilot William Howarth. Shocked, exhausted and injured, they staggered uphill into the TV station and called for help.

2 Electrical Union Disputes Still Unsettled

Kyger Creek Pickets Decry Tow Boat Use; C&SOE Offer Shunned

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Two electrical labor disputes involving Ohio firms continued unsettled today.

Utility Workers Union of America pickets aboard boats in the Ohio River Wednesday said a tow boat almost ran them down. It was delivering coal to the strikebound Kyger Creek power plant.

The 11 barges of coal were the first to arrive at the plant since the strike began Sunday. They were also the first to arrive since ice on the river thawed enough to allow traffic.

The UWUA plans to protest to the United Mine Workers. Deckhands on the barges are members of the Mine Workers Union, District 50.

James G. Cox, administrative assistant for the Ohio Valley Electric Corp., which operates the Kyger Creek plant, had reported the plant was "running short of coal." He said the stockpile was enough to last 80 to 90 days.

THE PLANT, which supplies power for the Atomic Energy Commission plant in Pike County, uses eight tons of coal a minute. Wednesday's shipment was 15,000 tons.

Cox said supervisory personnel are having no difficulty keeping the plant operating smoothly.

In a public hearing Wednesday, Gallia County Common Pleas Judge Robert M. Betz, who issued a restraining order Monday limiting the number of pickets at the plant, ruled that he had authority to issue the order.

The UWUA had contended that the order must come from a federal court since the plant is involved in interstate trade.

Meanwhile, negotiating committees from the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers Union and the Columbus & Southern Ohio Electric Co. are back at the bargaining table in Columbus in an effort to come up with a new contract.

The company's last proposal was turned down Wednesday in a vote by the IBEW members, but union officials said the vote as not a strike vote.

The offer was reported to have granted several fringe benefits which the company calculated, increased its earlier offer of a 4 per cent wage increase to 5 per cent. The union denied the increase amounted to that much.

George Thomas, vice president of the IBEW State Board said the major demand is for a reevaluation of all jobs in the line department to bring the hourly pay rate to $3.05 for journeymen linemen. Present hourly rates vary from $2.70 to $2.76, he said.

The union said that if a new contract offer is made today it will again present it to the IBEW members in a vote Friday. The present contract expires at midnight Friday.

BOLTON, England (AP)—A chartered British airliner with 42 persons aboard smashed against a snow-covered mountain today only five minutes from its destination. A policeman at the scene said 34 persons perished.

FCC Member To Stay on Job

Mack Denies Influence Peddled in TV Case

WASHINGTON (AP)—Richard A. Mack said today he will not resign from the Federal Communications Commission. He swore he was not influenced or swayed by appeals from friends in a contested television license case.

Mack further told a House investigating subcommittee under oath that he is getting rid of his interest in a Miami insurance agency which wrote the insurance on the successful applicant in the contested Miami TV channel.

Mack said that it was only last Monday when he read the newspapers that he knew this agency, Sembler-Shelden Insurance Agency, Inc., had obtained the business from Public Service Television, Inc.

Mack acknowledged borrowings totaling $4,980 since 1950 from Miami attorney Thurman A. Whiteside. He said all but $250 has been repaid.

"Mr. Whiteside has never in his life attempted to use any financial obligation of mine to influence my actions, either private or official," Mack said.

A REPUBLICAN member of the committee said earlier that Mack should resign immediately; and if he didn't, should be removed from office.

Mack, who has denied any wrongdoing, is a 48-year-old Florida Democrat who was named to the FCC by President Eisenhower in July 1955.

The investigators have heard testimony that rival groups seeking a TV license in Miami tried to influence Mack. These groups included friends of Mack on both sides of the battle for Miami's Channel 10, which ultimately went to a subsidiary of National Airlines, Public Service.

Mack has said allegations that he received payments and pledged his vote in the TV case are without foundation.

Whiteside also has denied that Mack was pledged to him to vote for Public Service which won the Channel 10 grant over three other applicants.

Cuban Rebels Continue Harassment Campaign

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—Fidel Castro's rebels kept up their harassment campaign in the heart of Havana Wednesday night, burning one bus within five blocks of the Cuban capitol and halting others by watering their gasoline.

The rebels avoided the heavily guarded sports palace where world lightweight champion Joe Brown of New Orleans knocked out Cuban champ Orlando Echevarria in the first round.

Fayette Rural Boards of Education Restate Opposition to State Department Survey Plan

The Fayette County and Miami Trace boards of education, in identical letters to E. E. Holt, state superintendent of public instruction have restated their views on a proposed survey by the State Board of Education.

The letters, in answer to the state superintendent's inquiry as to whether the rural boards desire to participate in the survey and to what extent, if any, they will be willing to share the costs, point out that neither the county nor the Miami Trace board considers the proposed survey "necessary, expedient or proper" and that the boards see no reason why public funds should be expended for a survey "instigated by a small group of citizens."

The State Board ordered the state superintendent to make a survey of the Fayette County school situation Jan. 13 after that board had received a letter from Sam B. Marting, Concord Township farmer, stating that a group of Fayette County citizens had deposited $5,000 in the First National Bank here to help underwrite the costs of the survey.

AT A CONFERENCE called by Holt on Feb. 6, spokesmen for the rural boards indicated that while they are not opposed to surveys, they want nothing to do with the

Red Envoy Urging Visits by Leaders

WASHINGTON (AP)—Soviet Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov says he would like to see Soviet leaders visit the United States and American leaders visit Russia.

His sweeping proposal included Soviet Communist boss Nikita Khrushchev and Vice President Richard Nixon.

"I think personally that the more exchanges we have on all kinds of levels—from the very top to the bottom—the better," Menshikov said.

Concerning his own meetings with high U. S. officials, the envoy said:

"I can only say that I have been received very well by everybody that I met. They've been very nice. I found that most people I met expressed a desire in a general way to come to some sort of understanding between our countries and this is a good sign."

Menshikov, who arrived in Washington only three weeks ago, assailed what he called "artificial restrictions and discrimination" imposed by the United States on trade with the Soviet Union and said they ought to be removed.

HE ALSO SAID "we don't compete at all" with the United States in assisting the industrial development of such countries as India. And he called for a start "as soon as possible" on arrangements for a summit conference.

Menshikov, 55, and an expert in foreign trade, is something new on the diplomatic scene in Washington — an English-speaking Soviet envoy who is smiling, friendly, relaxed.

Here in summary are the principal points Menshikov made in an interview Wednesday:

1. Summit conference—A meeting on the great issues dividing the West and Russia "should not be delayed."

2. Soviet criticism of the United States — Menshikov said he had read articles in the United States critical of the Soviet Union and went on: "There has been a lot of misunderstanding and, if you like, misrepresentation." But he thought criticism would decrease "the more we understand each other's position" and the more international tensions are relaxed.

3. U. S.-Soviet differences — There will always be some sort of disagreement. Ideological differences should not necessarily produce bad feelings between the two countries.

4. U. S.-Soviet trade — "Artificial restrictions and discriminations have been imposed on trade between our two countries. First, all of this didn't cause any harm to our country. Second, your country didn't gain anything from that."

Menshikov said the United States and Russia should "normalize the economic relationship and mutually advantageous trade." He said Russia could sell such foods as caviar and commodities like furs, skins, chromium ore, platinum and manganese. Russia would like to buy machinery, industrial and agricultural products.

70 Persons Hurt in 13 Communities

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Daylight disclosed new damage today from a series of late winter tornadoes which ravished central Mississippi Wednesday night. Two more deaths brought the toll to 12.

One of the hardest hit spots was the world-famed Piney Woods Country Life School about 25 miles from south of Jackson. Roofs of at least four of the large buildings at the school for Negro children were torn off.

Dr. Laurence C. Jones, the white-haired Negro educator who founded Piney Woods, said destruction there was "terrible."

The injured in 13 communities hit by the unexpected twisters numbered more than 70.

A U. S. forest ranger, Joe Couch, said at Laurel that many trees were felled in the big DeSoto National Forest and timber losses would be large.

Devastation dotted a 140-mile-wide area in central and eastern Mississippi between Canton, 20 miles north of here, and Poplarville, 120 miles south.

Five of the dead were in the hard-hit rural area between Richton and Waynesboro, near the Alabama line. Three were at the Farm Haven community near Canton, one near Jackson and one near Walnut Grove, 40 miles east of Canton.

One of the Farm Haven victims was Sally Day, a woman reported to be 110 years old.

The first twister reported was in the Jackson area.

Mrs. Leland Bolton, a 27-year-old housewife of the Luckey community east of here, said she was setting the table for supper when the rains and hard winds came.

"It sounded like a million bells," she said. "All I could think about was my babies and family. Only the good Lord saved us. An icebox held off the falling debris when the roof fell in."

THE TWISTER hit in the Fannin community of the same area, killing 3-year-old Cathy Jones.

Hospitals in the Jackson area reported a dozen injuries. Several dozen were reported hurt in the devastated Richton-Waynesboro area.

Percy H. Clark, 56, said he and his wife, 48, heard a sound like a train as they sat in their living room.

"The next thing we knew we were sitting under it," he said. "We heard a roaring and all at once we were gone."

He said his pickup truck was carried 100 feet and deposited in the top of a pine tree.

In the same area, the twister ripped up the house of Mrs. Alonzo Rylee, about 50, killing her and her son Billy, 13.

Ike Angers Midwest GOP

WASHINGTON (AP)—Resentment flared among rebellious Midwestern Republicans in Congress today over President Eisenhower's sharply worded defense of Secretary of Agriculture Benson.

As two GOP House members prepared to carry formal protests against Benson's farm policies to the White House, Rep. O'Konski (R-Wis.) said, "So far, I've been under the impression we only needed a new secretary of agriculture. Now I think we also need a new president."

Eisenhower made abundantly clear to his news conference he had no idea of ousting Benson and little thought of interfering with the secretary's farm policies. One or the other has been urged openly by many farm belt Republicans.

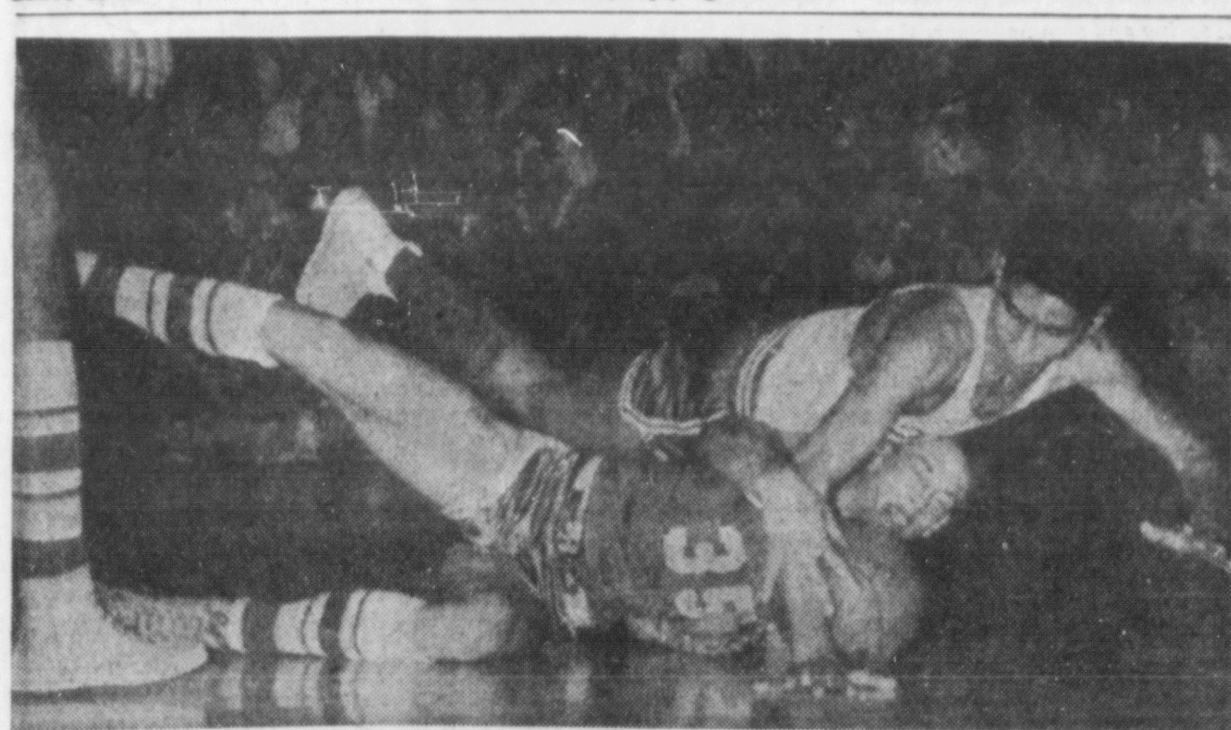

Praising Benson as a man of courage and honesty, Eisenhower said those advocating his ouster are badly mistaken.

Eisenhower said that by and large the country will be better off if farmers are free from government regulations and operate under free market forces like the rest of the economy.

HE ALSO SAID that Benson's programs generally have had the approval of bipartisan agricultural advisory committees.

Taking the House floor shortly after the President made his statement, Rep. Anderson (R-Minn.) commented bitterly: "It now appears that the President has foreclosed any opportunity to acquaint himself with the facts."

Rep. Weaver (R-Neb.) said, "Mrs. Benson is ineffectual because the folks have lost confidence in him. When he lacks that confidence and leadership, the President ought to take cognizance of it."

Shall We Rattle?

HOCKEY-LIKE ACTION lived up last quarter of Jeffersonville's tournament game with Huntington Wednesday night. Joel McDonald, No. 35 hit the pavement twice in that period as he fought on to lead Jeff scoring with 17 points. The Tigers lost, 69-60, and Huntington goes on to tackle Lynchburg in the next round of tourney competition (see story on Sports Page).

Sen. Kennedy Shows Courage In Address

Admiration is being expressed by numerous people, whether Democrats or Republicans, for the frank statement recently by John F. Kennedy, the Democratic junior U. S. Senator from Massachusetts. He has talked out in a fearless manner, which meets general approval of thinking people, on a subject which most present day Democratic leaders, and quite a few Republicans, are inclined to avoid through political fear of labor union reprisal.

Just a few days ago while speaking in New York at the annual luncheon of the Fordham Law Alumni Association, in a manner entirely different from the usual side-stepping type of many politicians, he took the political risk most of his Democratic brethren of national reputation would studiously shun, by severely criticizing "venal and irresponsible" labor union lawyers who carry out the wishes of unpatriotic, selfish, low-grade leaders.

Whether this will affect the young senator's chances for the next nomination as a candidate for the presidency, if he decides to seek it as many Democrats are reported urging him to do, is a situation that will be watched with interest.

In speaking of the economic power which unions now appear to be wielding, Sen. Kennedy asserted that the development of this power "was not achieved without the active assistance of skillful lawyers. In fact the statutory regulations of labor relations made lawyers a necessary adjunct to this evolution." He was careful to add that many good and devoted attorneys, no less than "legal racketeers," have served the growth of union power; but the "racketeers" are the ones on whom he directed his fire.

They are the ones who show up at congressional hearings "as defenders of the wolves who spoil the sheep," he said. They are the ones who counsel corrupt union leaders against testifying about their gangster friends and their paid thugs; they are the ones who draft organization schemes for "paper locals," phony "employer groups," and the "sweetheart contracts" between certain employers and certain unions to exploit labor; they are the ones who rig union books to hide misappropriations and outright thefts by union officials, and who not infrequently share in the loot themselves, he pointed out.

They are the ones, avers Sen. Kennedy, something ought to be done about. Sen. Kennedy is right. However, for a man interested in political advancement within the Democratic Party, he chooses a remarkably spirited way to be right. Maybe, he'd rather be right than be president; maybe he wants to be both and deems this a good approach.

No Gold-Plating for a Lily

NEW YORK (U.S.)—Cosmetic surgery today has become a booming branch of medicine and three out of four patients are women.

"That is because women in our culture are expected to be beautiful," said Dr. Robert A. Franklyn, a specialist in the field, "whereas men are expected only to be talented and good providers."

Dr. Franklyn estimated there are 250,000 plastic (or cosmetic) surgery operations a year in the United States. He breaks them down as follows:

Nose operations—70 per cent.
Face lifting—15 per cent.
Breast operations—10 per cent.
Other—5 per cent.

But the amazing development to Dr. Franklyn is the "bust boom" created by women who now look to surgeons to provide them with the fuller bosom nature denied them.

"In another few years, if our present bosom culture continues," he remarked, "breast operations will make up 50 per cent of all cosmetic surgery."

"Formerly, the objective in this type of operation was a reduction in the size of the bosom. Now 99 per cent of the women want a larger bosom."

"This comes about because of a change in beauty goals. The old skinny, flat silhouette of the high-fashion model is out. The goal of womanly beauty today is a round, curvy, healthy look."

The doctor, husband of actress Vanessa Brown, has operated on many film stars, but this

Diet and Health

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

NEW medical advances are being made on several fronts with a new drug for treating ulcers, an experimental tuberculosis vaccine and a new method of controlling drug action among the most recent discoveries.

Favorable results are reported in a series of 155 cases of peptic ulcer treated with a medicine called Romach tablets for a period of three to six weeks. Immediate relief of pain was claimed in 92 per cent of the cases.

Encourages Healing
The medication contains bismuth subnitrate which adheres closely to the ulcer wall and encourages healing.

The TB vaccine is made from purified tubercle bacillus in a solution of hexadecane. The wax contains many solvent-extracted tubercle bacilli which apparently are the principal factors in producing the immunity, since the wax lost its immunizing power when most of the bacilli were removed.

Immunizing Agent
The vaccine was found to be a good immunizing agent against experimental TB in studies with mice.

A unique principle of "chemo-tactic control" has been incorporated for the first time in a drug tablet controlling drug action called Super Sustamin 2-12. It is a new relief for arthritis and rheumatic pains.

The granules of the medication are covered with different thicknesses of nonmedical coatings which are insoluble in stomach acids, but dissolve in intestinal secretions.

Gastric Disturbances
This type of construction helps to avoid gastric disturbances which often accompany prolonged administration of the usual aspirin type of medications, and also provides measured and sustained release of the medicine into the system.

There is another very important medical study now under way which isn't expected to be completed for about three or four years. It's the nation's first known cooperative effort to evaluate the effectiveness of anticoagulant drugs in preventing strokes.

Take Many Lives
Strokes and cerebral vascular diseases take an estimated 172,000 American lives each year.

The new study, in which 1,800 patients will take part, is specifically concerned with prevention of cerebral strokes rather than treating them after they have occurred.

Results of this study will be very enlightening.

Let's Be Practical

ROANOKE, Va. (U.S.)—The scene was the children's department of the Roanoke Public Library. A mother was searching for a book suitable for her younger daughter. Finally she pulled a volume from the shelf.

Here's one you'll like, dear. It's about Niagara Falls."

"Oh Mother," the child replied. "You know I can't swim."

Cafe Society's Drab Mile

New York is as large as some kingdoms, but there are those among us who know only about a mile of the city, from the environs of 52nd St. to 72nd St., not quite across from river to river.

They see little of an exciting, colorful city. They dine in restaurants, the 21 Club, the Stork Club, the Colony, the Pavillon, maybe two or three others, or they go to small smoky night clubs to gossip.

New York is the haven of the European expatriate. There are always good-natured Americans to pick up the checks and there are always Americans snobs who will know-low to a European title, whatever its validity or significance.

Some even come from countries where such vestiges of feudalism have been abolished, never to be restored again.

The battle for a right table is something to think about among these men and women of the past. To be seen is to establish that one is still alive.

To eat in comfort, to sit where it is possible to converse, to enjoy one's food and drink without interruption by chance acquaintances, these conveniences do not matter as much as to be on exhibition, to be looked at, to be nodded to, to be gazed upon.

Only the insecure require such attentions, yet who but the insecure would make a fetish of being seen in the grand monde?

There are those who exchange tidbits with the gamins of the press, the keyhole columnists. It is a bit of quid pro quo. "You mention me and I'll tell you all about my friends."

Why anyone wants to know about the misfortunes of another, except in pity or sympathy, it is difficult to understand. But that is a thriving trade, so thriving that some of the European refugees, like movie stars, hire press agents to speak ill of them, knowing that only bad news makes good copy.

To suggest that there will be a divorce among two inconsequential persons seems somehow worthy of a line or two of type.

It is an amazing part of the world, this mile of New York, and exists nowhere else on earth. It is without color or excitement; it is, in fact, drab. Conversation is difficult in most of the spots, as they are called, because the real estate is so valuable that no room is left even for waiters to move gracefully.

This little world is important only to itself. Most New Yorkers only know about them through the notices of evil deeds and improprieties and wonder what these names represent in real life.

In the wonderful word of business, art, music, publishing, radio and television which is New York, these names are lost, except for those who read of celebrities and live vicariously, like a little boy looking at cream puffs in a bakery window.

In this milieu, there are always those who are in a hurry, they rush about from place to place. The evening turns into night and night into morning.

They move their bodies from one place to another. The drinks are the same; the food is the same; the cigar and cigarette smoke are of equal intensity; the music is without verve and enthusiasm, for this is an era of weepy music.

Why do they go from one place to another? Will their boredom be less bitter than yon?

Maybe, they hate to be alone.

By George Sokolsky

Maybe they are afraid of something.

In the crowd, anyone can avoid being alone. In the smoke, even strangers can look not so bad, and the chance acquaintance becomes an intimate friend.

This side of New York life was more colorful when the rich entertained mostly at home, when servants were available and competent, when a host knew wines and food and his guests were genteel people whose conversation was interesting and stimulating.

Then came cafe society, which is what the name describes, those whose sociability is in a saloon and whose status is determined by a head waiter.

Overlaping cafe society are the nobility refugees, the European titles, who try to play at being what their ancestors once were, but what nobody is any longer except in the pepped-up side streets of New York.

The Church of Sweden Assembly in Stockholm recently voted, 62 to 36, against the proposal to permit women to become ordained ministers.

KING GUSTAF RELENTS—Sweden's King Gustaf Adolf reportedly has relented and given consent for his granddaughter, Princess Margaretha, 23, to marry British jazz pianist Robin Douglas-Horne, 25. Both are shown above. They met in 1956. (International)

When an old-fashioned recipe calls for half a pound of raisins, use 1½ cups. Rinse the raisins in hot water and drain well before using in cakes and cookies.

NOT ALL the new dresses are shifts; this one plainly shows the figure. Made of navy silk shantung with white polka dots, the dress has a fitted bodice with open neckline banded in pleated, white, lace-edged organza, and three-quarter sleeves. Skirt is draped in a knotted effect low in front. It's from the spring collection of Suzy Perette.

You can cook a couple of pounds of turnips (peeled and diced) in a half cup of boiling water, adding a teaspoon of salt. Put the covered saucepan over high heat and as soon as steam appears reduce the heat to simmering. If water evaporates before vegetable is tender, add a little more.

The fat and solid particles remaining in the pan after cooking meat or poultry are called drippings.

SHOP TALK

By SHARON

What's new? Well, just a whole lot of things as we found out shopping about the other day.

How about some black or red leotard tights? These are of jersey and very practical as well as attractive. A wonderful cover-up for cool days under trim skirts or almost a necessity under brief skating skirts, either on the ice or at the roller rink.

For the ladies, they come in small, medium or large and are priced at $5.98. For the very young ladies, they ranged from size 4 to 14 at $4.98.

Although these tights have proved very popular in other places, to our knowledge, this is the first time that they have been shown locally.

DO YOU FEEL you are constructed along too feminine lines to grace shorts? Why not try a shirt? These are very brief skirts with attached matching panty and are accented pleated all around.

They are available in either colorful plaid or a solid blue in sizes 10 to 18 at only $2.98. These also can be used as skating skirts.

We must mention that these are perma-pleated and drip dry fashions.

For that long-legged and sleek look, try a pair of the latex treader-inspired pants. These feature a hi-rise waist, and due to the elasticized material, truly sleek tapered legs, fitting closely at the ankle.

They come in either black or white with a Soutache braid trim in oak leaf pattern running the length of the leg.

Ultra chic is attained here for the modest price of $10.95.

AT THIS SAME store, for the spring bride, we noted an ethereal nightgown done in the delicate shades. This is of sheer nylon over white tulle, in the popular eberle length.

The delicate shades of pink, blue, palest green and yellow blend in rainbow fashion in this most feminine of gowns. A dropped, draped band of the same fabric forms a picture neckline meeting at the front in a tiny nosegay attached to a satin bow. This is available in small, medium and large at a mere $5.98.

Going from the latest in fashions to those of a bygone era in our thoughts, we recalled how very becoming the Colonial hoop skirted gown worn by Jotty Harper at the Washington Ball last Saturday evening.

Her husband, Howard, informed us, however, that the hoops proved most inconvenient for dancing purposes.

Do you suppose that accounts for the usual dour expression on face of our first president? Poor George was suffering from bruised shins throughout his lifetime.

ALTHOUGH IT MAY seem a bit premature to mention this early, one store has in stock a lovely selection of first communion and confirmation dresses. There are several styles and they are of easy to care for white nylon. Very reasonably priced at only $4.98 and $5.98, sizes 5 to 14.

It seems that every year these dresses are at a premium, and if you have a child who will need such a dress it might be wise to do your shopping now.

SHOULD YOU DESIRE any additional information concerning any of the items mentioned above, please call 3-5291 and ask for Sharon.

If a recipe directs you to "try out" salt pork, it means that small pieces of the pork should be fried slowly in a skillet until the liquid fat separates from the tissue.

When you use a broiler in a gas oven, remember that the broiling compartment should be preheated for five minutes with full flame.

Meatless tomato spaghetti sauce with mushrooms is fine to use when you are shirring eggs.

New Lenten Recipe Comes From Canada

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

By The Associated Press
Forty-below weather, in my Canadian childhood, sometimes meant that lurch and supper dishes were made exclusively from provisions in what my mother called the "larder." On those snowbound days my sisters and I would often beg for Salmon Patties — brown and crisp on the outside, flavorful and soft inside.

But much as we liked salmon, I suspect that one reason we welcomed the patties was because of the inexorable rule in our household that they be served with the tiny sweet gherkins we were mad about.

Other accompaniments to the patties were old-fashioned pan-fried potatoes, creamed green peas, buttered carrots. For dessert, that old Canadian winter standby 8 cup-up oranges and bananas — would probably turn up.

Nowadays you might enjoy serving salmon patties with Tartar Sauce and a salad. If you have an electric skillet, you can cook the patties right at the table.

My mother used to use dry bread crumbs in the salmon patties she made but nowadays fresh bread crumbs seem to be in favor and so here's a rule using the latter.

SALMON PATTIES

Ingredients: 4 eggs, 4 cups (8 slices) fine fresh bread crumbs (crusts included), 1 can (1 pound) salmon, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon dry mustard, 4 tablespoons minced parsley, 4 tablespoons butter or margarine, 1 medium-sized onion (chopped), flour, 3 to 4 tablespoons butter.

Method: In a medium-sized bowl beat eggs enough to combine yolks and whites. Stir in bread crumbs. Add salmon including liquid in can, salt, mustard and parsley; mix well, breaking up salmon. (It is not necessary to remove bones — they provide calcium). Melt 4 tablespoons butter in a small skillet; add onion and cook slowly, stirring often, until transparent and tender but not brown; stir into salmon mixture.

Rinse hands in cold water and shape mixture into flat patties, using about ¼ cup for each. (Mixture may be quite soft.) Spread about 2 tablespoons flour on a large piece of waxed paper; place patties on flour to coat, using a wide spatula or pancake turner to turn. Melt 2 tablespoons butter in a skillet (about 10 inches); add half the patties or as many as the pan will hold without crowding. Fry slowly until hot through and browned on both sides. Add 1 or 2 tablespoons more butter if necessary to fry remaining patties. Makes 14 to 16 patties.

LENTEN AND FRIDAY COOKBOOK

A recently published cookbook, "52 Fridays, Meatless Meats and Recipes" by Ethel M. Keating (Bruce) is worth looking into for ideas for Lenten meals. Although the author emphasizes fish, she has developed such fine recipes that this book is definitely worth having for all-round use. Her excellent recipes include ones for vegetables, breads and desserts and they are written in a fairly detailed manner except for an occasional omission of a pan size.

The Distaff Side . .

Turn creamed eggs into a shallow container, sprinkle generously with grated Parmesan cheese and brown under the broiler. Serve with buttered toast.

Bake two meat loaves at one time; serve one hot. The other may be refrigerated and garnished for use at a supper buffet with a casserole of scalloped potatoes.

A buttery dry dressing to which sweet pickles have been added, is perfect to use when stuffing a fish that is to be baked.

When you are preparing candied orange peel, cover the large pieces of peel with cold water, and simmer until tender 30 to 45 minutes. Drain and use a scissors to cut the orange peel into narrow strips before cooking it in a sugar syrup for about 20 minutes. Let the strips of peel stand in the syrup overnight before draining on a rack and then rolling in sugar.

Add half a dozen juniper berries to the roasting pan when you are putting a lamb cut in the oven. Then baste the meat with the juniper-flavored juices.

Women Dislike New Sacks, But Admit They'll Wear 'Em

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Staff Writer

More than two out of three American women say they dislike the new sack—or chemise—fashions. But almost half of them say they'll probably wear them, anyway.

This, despite the fact that only one husband in seven has expressed himself as pleased with fashion's most recent rearrangement of the female form divine.

The Associated Press made a sack survey of women from San Francisco to New York, from Maine to California. Housewives, spinners, society leaders, professional women, career girls, working girls and teen-agers were among those polled. The survey may not have proved much about the fate of the chemise silhouette, but it does seem to reinforce the average male's conviction that dames are inconsistent. They wear a burlap bag if fashion so dictated, and that—whatever they do dress for—it isn't the men in their lives.

Statistics turned up are impressive but, no matter how closely studied, they just don't make much sense. For instance:

To the direct question, "What do you think of the sack silhouette?" 26 per cent of the women vowed they liked it, they loved it, it was fun! Another 54 per cent remarked with varying degrees of violence that they disliked it, they loathed it, they wouldn't be caught dead in it. Twenty per cent made cautious, qualified answers—maybe for slender, hipless, youngones but not for me. One woman, a factory worker in Illinois, said, "I never heard of it."

The next question was "Do you plan to wear it?" Thirty-eight per cent (and some of them were those who said they disliked it) announced they already were or would. Fifty-five per cent (and some of them were women who said they liked it) announced they would not, ever, wear it. A mere 7 per cent were undecided.

Seventy-two per cent of the survey group were married women. Fourteen per cent of them reported their husbands liked the chemise. Eighty per cent, however, merrily reported husbandly reactions ranging from "What have you got on—a laundry bag?" (Greer Garson, actress) to "He would completely ignore me—and I'm serious" (Mrs. Robert McCann, Bismarek, N. D. housewife. Overwhelmingly (75 per cent), the women expressed a permanent preference for simple, classic clothes. And well over half insisted that the revolutionary new silhouette will be no more than a passing fancy except for women who go in for high style.

Singer Patti Page, for instance, says she likes the new dresses very much—but not for television, where the chemise is ignored as studiously as off-color jokes.

"Television clothes," she said, "are different from street wear. A chemise might look good, in person. But the camera wouldn't help the dress at all."

Defenders of the sack, generally, seemed to cluster in the larger cities, to be high-style conscious—and slender. St. Louis housewife Mrs. Pat Saxon gave a typical answer: "I like it. And I plan to wear sack dresses because they are a high fashion item. Actually, they aren't sack when they fit correctly."

Fashion-plate Ina Claire, former stage star and now Mrs. William Wallace, San Francisco social leader, insists that a well-made chemise, like her favorite Balenciaga, is subtle and delicately curved "so you can see there is a human body in it."

Sack-haters, however, were more colorful in their attack. A woman physician in Atlanta, Ga., Dr. Irene Phrydas, remarked that she thinks its "terrific for women in an early stage of pregnancy: this season is a wonderful time to be expecting—no one would ever know with the sack look."

St. Louis receptionist Catherine Noerteman just thinks "it stinks."

and New York writer Janice Devine sees in it "a conspiracy by designers to make women look silly." Mrs. June Larid of Topeka, Kan., finds sack dresses "utterly ridiculous," and Mrs. J. Glynn Frost of Gardiner, Me., just said, "No swear words allowed—I think it's awful."

Stage and TV star Mary Martin is a veteran of the sack: she wore one in a comedy routine six years ago in her television debut.

"They laughed at me when I wore a sack in 1952," she said. "And I don't blame them. It was funny then and it's funny now."

Miss Martin, however, is broad-minded about the new silhouette. "These are tense days and its good, for a change, for men to have a good laugh. Why shouldn't we women give it to them?"

Although Miss Martin insists that her husband finds the sack funny, it is apparent that large numbers of husbands do not.

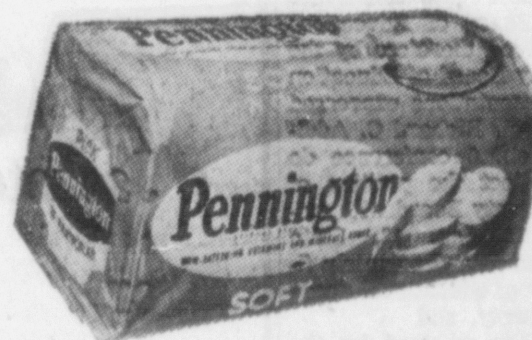

"He wouldn't take me out if I wore such a thing," said Mrs. James Snow of Topeka—and her husband's sentiments were widely echoed by married males all over the country.

"He'd be absolutely right in burning every one of the fool things I brought home," said San Francisco's Mrs. Frances E. Johnson, secretary.

Many style-conscious women, like Greer Garson, however, urged patience in judging the new vogue.

in the county when there is already machinery sponsored by the majority of the public in the county providing for a study of the necessity for and the desirability of such a survey.

Both rural boards have, in addition, passed resolutions stating their opposition to the Stat. Board survey.

THE FAYETTE County board's resolution said:

"Whereas, the State Board of Education in regular monthly session on Jan. 13, 1958, authorized the state superintendent of public instruction to conduct a survey of educational needs in Fayette County and to pay the cost of same from funds ($5,000) deposited in the First National Bank of Washington C. H. as announced by Sam B. Marting, and

"Whereas, representatives of the Fayette County and the Miami Trace boards were invited by the state superintendent to meet with representatives of the Washington C. H. City Board of Education at the offices of the State Department of Education on Feb. 6, 1958, to discuss the survey which the State Board had authorized on Jan. 13, 1958, and,

"Whereas, Richard C. Addison, legal counsel for the Fayette County and Miami Trace boards informed the state superintendent at the Feb. 6th conference that the Fayette County and Miami Trace boards would neither give any financial support nor in any way, except as provided by law, cooperate in the conduct of this state board sponsored survey, and

"Whereas, Richard C. Addison, in behalf of the Fayette County and Miami Trace boards requested that the boards of education of Fayette County be given a hearing before the State Board assembled in executive session, and

"Whereas, the State Superintendent indicated that he would report the gist of the Feb. 6 conference to the State Board of Education;

"Be it resolved therefore by the Fayette County Board of Education that the representations expressed by legal counsel, Richard C. Addison at the Feb. 6 conference do accurately reflect the position of the Fayette County Board with reference to this Jan. 13, State Board - sponsored and privately financed survey of educational needs in Fayette County, and

"Be it further resolved by the Fayette County Board of Education that the staff members of the county board be authorized and directed to reflect the policies of the county board to any or all personnel which may be assigned by the State Board to conduct this survey."

THE MIAMI TRACE board's resolution reads as follows:

"Whereas, the State Board of Education has expressed its disposition to engage in a survey of school districts in Fayette County and

"Whereas, in the general election of 1957 all candidates for the Miami Trace Board of Education, who publicly committed themselves to a survey were defeated polling only 40 per cent of the vote, and

"Whereas, in the same election all candidates for the Miami Trace Board of Education who publicly committed themselves to the construction of a rural high school and preservation of Miami Trace Local School District were elected polling 60 per cent of the total vote; and,

"Whereas, it is the desire of the Miami Trace Board of Education to proceed with the construction of the much needed high school approved by the voters in the 1956 general election; and

"Whereas, the Miami Trace Board of Education has no desire or intention of co-operating with or partially financing any State Board of Education survey, feeling that this would be a betrayal of the trust which has consistently been placed in this board by the voters, and

"Whereas, the above mentioned survey was petitioned for and urged upon the board, by the same recalcitrant minority which has been many times repudiated by the voters of the district, and

"Whereas, this minority group is the same group which had doggedly and successfully delayed educational improvement in Fayette County as approved by the majority of voters, and

"Whereas, the Miami Trace

why pay more?

Board is convinced that any State Board of Education survey would be seized upon by this same minority as a means to still further delay the rural school program, and

"Whereas, the Miami Trace Board is not disposed to pool any funds with the $5,000, (the source of which is still unknown) which as alleged by Sam B. Marting is on deposit in a local bank for use by the State Board of Education in conducting a survey in Fayette County therefore

"Resolved, the Miami Trace Local Board of Education go on record as opposing any State Board of Education sponsored survey, or co-operating in any way, except as provided by law, with such a survey, and

"Resolved, the Miami Trace Board of Education go on record as refusing to finance such a survey either wholly or in part."

Teachers Cast Ballots For Delegates to NEA

Approximately 200 teachers in city and county schools who are members of the Ohio Education Assn. are receiving ballots for election of delegates to the meeting of the National Education Assn. in Cleveland June 29-July 4.

There are 10 candidates for the nine delegate assignments from the 21-county Central District of which Fayette County is a part. There are no local candidates. Voting is to be completed by March 9.

Plaintiff in the case is Fred R. Edick, Pittsburgh, who asks judgment against Charles Junior Laufer Route 5, for injuries and other damages allegedly received Aug. 15, 1955, when Laufer's pickup truck struck him in the 200 block of E. Court St.

Laufer answered Edick's charge of negligence with a claim that the accident was the plaintiff's fault. Illinois and Pennsylvania have an annual railway payroll of more than 500 million dollars each.

O'Neill Aides Give Reports On Problems

Ailing Governor Told State Revenue Dips, Unemployment Climbs

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State directors at Gov. C. William O'Neill's first full Cabinet meeting since his heart attack Wednesday reported that state revenues are dropping and unemployment is increasing.

O'Neill, recovering "satisfactorily" from his Jan. 22 attack, called for further belt-tightening in government operations.

"We are going to have to cut expenditures to meet revenues so that we shall remain in the black," the governor said.

O'Neill explained that state revenues are tied directly to the level of business. He said revenue from the state's 3 per cent tax on retail sales is dropping and liquor sales by the state monopoly system so far this year are 10 per cent below the corresponding 1957 period.

Sales and liquor taxes are two of Ohio's major revenue producers. The state is confronted with the possibility of a situation which has not occurred since the thirties in respect to the revenue drop, O'Neill said.

The governor expressed confidence, however, that the state could operate without curtailing essential services. He referred particularly to requirements for poor relief and welfare activities.

Richard Minor, assistant state welfare director, said the state will be able to meet its full 50-50 poor relief matching for the first quarter of 1958. He said full matching would not be possible in March, but any deficit for that month would be made up during April.

James Tichenor, administrator of the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation, said Ohioans unemployed one week or more now exceed 200,000. The total included 28,000 new claimants for jobless benefits, he added.

Robert B. Krupansky, state liquor director, said 1957 sales hit a new high. He explained the 1958 revenue drop thus compares with a record year.

Total for the year reached $112,690,462 for an increase of about 2 per cent above the 1956 total, per cent above the 1956 total.

Few on Idle List Exhaust All Benefits

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Few unemployed persons exhaust all their state jobless benefits even during periods of recession, Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation figures show.

Under Ohio law, a worker unemployed in an industry covered by unemployment insurance may draw up to 26 weekly benefit checks in any 52-week period. The maximum allowance is $39.50 for a married person with two dependents.

But a BUC study shows 4,750 unemployed Ohioans exhausted their benefits during January—less than three per cent of those drawing jobless checks. Yet this represents a 79 per cent increase over the number of persons exhausting benefits during January, 1957.

Although no figures are available for the current recession, the BUC said the average claimant during the 1949-1950 recession drew benefits for 12.2 weeks before finding work. In 1954, another recession year, the average was 10.7 weeks.

PLAN FOOD CONFERENCE—Fayette County's Miss Gloria Cleland, left, Ohio Pork Queen, is shown with Dr. James Hay, director of the Ohio Department of Agriculture, as they make plans for the "Governor's Breakfast," a feature of the Ohio Food Conference in Columbus. The Ohio meeting is Gov. C. William O'Neill's follow-up of President Eisenhower's National Food Conference in Washington, and will emphasize the need for Ohioans to know more about food and proper diet in the interests of the general welfare. Miss Cleland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Cleland, near Bloomingburg, will be a guest at the breakfast at 8 a. m. Friday in the Jai Lai Cafe, Olentangy River Rd., which will be a prelude to the fourth annual Ohio Conference on Human Nutrition.

Widow Wins Appeal in Damage Suit

CINCINNATI (AP)—The U. S. Court of Appeals, Sixth Circuit, has reversed a lower court and ordered a new trial in the $100,000 damage suit of Mrs. Mable Fannin, New Richmond, Ohio, against the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad.

Mrs. Fannin, brought the suit as administratrix of the estate of Zeb Fannin, a railroad bridge painter who was killed Sept. 29, 1953. Fannin was killed while painting a bridge over the Sandusky River at Tiffin. U. S. District Judge Frank L. Kloebe, Toledo, directed a jury on Feb. 27, 1957, to return a verdict in favor of the railroad. He held there was contributory negligence on Fannin's part and no negligence on the part of the railroad in the accident. The Appellate Court in reversing Judge Kloebe, held that the excessive speed of the train presented an issue of negligence for determination by a jury. It also held that it should be presumed that Fannin was exercising ordinary care on his job and that that presumption should prevail until evidence to the contrary is offered. "We do not find such evidence in the record," the high court said in ordering a new trial.

State of Utah Hopes To Be Tourist Mecca

Board Attacks Scenic Neglect, Traffic Anemia

By LAMONT JOHNSON
Central Press Assn.
SALT LAKE CITY, Utah — A new promotion group in Utah, called the State Parks and Recreation commission, plans to transform the Mormon state into a western tourist mecca of true magnificence.

Map of Utah shows (upper left) how Great Salt Lake would be cut in two under present plan to create recreational area there. Circle (lower right) shows approximate location of proposed new Utah state park in famed "Canyon Lands."

Is evidence that it is not making use of them. The new State Parks Commission was created to remedy this.

It was a perfect case of finding the right man for the right job at the right time when state authorities found an executive director in Chester J. Olsen, who had just retired as regional forest supervisor at Ogden.

From the day of their appointment, Olsen and his aides have been touring the state, and inviting all of Utah's 29 counties to seek preservation of historic sites or development of whatever recreational projects they may have for a "massive assault" on scenic neglect and traffic anemia.

ONE OF THEIR FIRST acts was to approve an application from Grand county to establish a new state park down in the "Canyon Lands," as named by Maj. John Wesley Powell, famed for his adventurous boat trip down the unknown Green river and the Grand canyon in 1869.

This new state park will open up the vast and broken magnitude of ruptured earth where the Green and the Colorado rivers join amid the wild, tinted chasms of that tortuous land.

Olsen's group has also announced tentative plans for another enterprise of even greater dimensions.

This calls for dividing the Great Salt Lake into two parts, as shown on the accompanying map. That heroic idea involves a causeway running from the southeast shore of the lake to Antelope island, Fremont island and Promontory Point, historic for the tie-up of the Union Pacific and the Central Pacific railroads on May 10, 1869, as the first transcontinental railroad.

This would isolate the east

Egypt and Syria, Now United, Bitter Foes in Bible Times

By M. E. BYRNE
Written Especially for Central Press and This Newspaper

THE UNION of Egypt and Syria, whatever political implications it may hold for the Middle East, in particular, and the world, in general, also has considerable interest for the historian, for this merger of the two nations brings together the peoples of two lands which first came under the same ruler more than 3,600 years ago!

The newly-created so-called Arab Republic, uniting Syrians and Egyptians as one nation, had its counterpart—with considerable variations—away back in 1680 B. C., when a nomadic horde from the area of which modern Syria is a part, invaded and, almost without bloodshed, seized control of the ancient kingdom of Egypt.

The invaders were the Hyksos, that is, the "Shepherd Kings," as the Egyptians called them. Their ruler was one Salatis who overthrew the last king of the native Fourteenth Dynasty, the weak Pharaoh Timaueus.

Josephus, an ancient historian, identifies the Hyksos as Israelites. This is highly doubtful, however, for the Hyksos worshipped a Syrian deity and the Exodus of the Jewish peoples from bondage in Egypt was not to take place for some four centuries later.

HYKSOS KINGS sat on Egypt's throne for 100 years, comprising the Fifteenth and Sixteenth Dynasties of the Egyptian chronicle of kings. The Hyksos finally were overthrown and driven from power by a native king, the Pharaoh Ahmose.

Up to this point Egypt had remained a kingdom since the first pharaoh, Mena, had united Upper and Lower Egypt into a single nation some two thousand years before. Now, however, the Egyptians began to dream of empire.

When Thothmes I came to the throne (about 1540 B. C.) he invaded neighboring lands, attacked and defeated the Syrians, extending his sway to the Euphrates river. However, during the peaceful reign of his daughter, Queen Hatshepsut, Egyptian aggression halted and, at her death, the Syrians revolted.

Thothmes III, probably the greatest of pharaohs, raised a magnificent army, extending the Ancient enemies, Egypt and Syria now are a single nation.

Egyptian empire in all directions. He fought no less than 17 campaigns over a period of 33 years against the Syrians and their powerful allies, finally crushing them.

Revolt against Egyptian rule broke out in Syria again during the reign of Thothmes' son, Amenhotep II. He smashed the rebel force, looted Syria of rich booty and executed seven Syrian tribal kings as sacrifices to the Egyptian god Amon. During the next two reigns, those of Thothmes IV and Amenhotep III, Syrian rebellions were put down with great severity.

NOW TO THE THRONE came Amenhotep IV, a religious fanatic, far more interested in abolishing the pantheon of the traditional Egyptian deities—Amon, Ra, Thoth, Isis, Horus, Setnekt, etc.—in favor of the newly-formed cult of Aton—than he was in preserving the empire. Meanwhile, a tribe of ferocious warriors known as the Hittites had invaded Syria, wresting control of the land from Egypt's satraps.

Not until Seti I was crowned pharaoh did Egyptian prestige abroad revive. He thrashed the Hittites and the Syrians. His son, Rameses II, won a great victory against the Syrians and their allies near the ancient Syrian stronghold of Kadesh, where Rameses turned almost certain defeat into victory. His successor, Mneptah (about 1225 B. C.), briefly warred against the Hittites in Syria. His name is significant because he is believed to have possibly been the pharaoh of the Exodus who, according to the Biblical account, drowned in the Red sea as he pursued the Children of Israel fleeing from bondage.

By the year 1200 B. C. Egypt's prestige must have again fallen low for there is a papyrus account which tells of a Syrian making himself king of Egypt about that time.

The Pharaoh Rameses III briefly restored Egypt's glory by overwhelming a force of Libyans and their allies in Syria. However, by 1100 B. C., Egyptian control over Syria had again been broken.

Some 500 years later the Pharaoh Necho launched a campaign to restore Egypt's long lost control over Syria. He quickly reconquered the land of his fathers' ancient enemies but in turn was defeated by the Babylonians under King Nebuchadnezzar and was forced to surrender Syria.

Thus, at the beginning of the Sixth Century before the Christian Era, there came to an end the thousand-year strife between Egypt and Syria which are today, for political convenience, merged into a single nation.

In The Grease

NE BLUFF, Ark. (AP)—A prowler, who now is a slippery character if he wasn't before, seized Mrs. R. M. Knox as she walked across her back yard to dispose of some used cooking grease.

She answered his demand for valuables by giving him what she had with her—right in the face. He fled.

Khrushchev Reported Asking Hike in Private Land Farms

WARSAW (AP)—Nikita Khrushchev is reported unofficially to be seeking to increase private farmland in the Soviet Union to boost meat and dairy production.

This would be a reversal of Communist doctrine and a partial return to rural capitalism. It would reflect a lesson taught by Polish Communist party leader Wladyslaw Gomulka.

The Central Committee of the Soviet Communist party will soon hold an important meeting to debate Khrushchev's proposal to eliminate tractor stations in the Soviet Union and distribute their equipment among collective farms, the Polish Communist party organ Trybuna Ludu reported. But the Soviet party boss wants to go even further, unofficial reports say. He would trim down the size of collectives—the basic units of communism in the countryside—and turn the collectives into state-run grain farms.

The land pared from them would increase the private plots of farm workers who would concentrate on meat and dairy production.

Khrushchev apparently wants to take that radical step in an effort to fulfill his pledge to the Soviet people of more and better food by outstripping per capita U. S. production of meat, butter and eggs by 1960.

Both Western and Communist observers in Warsaw believe the forthcoming party meeting will prove of major importance for Khrushchev's career. Top Communists say even his plan to abolish tractor stations is a revolution and may run into opposition.

The tractor stations, which provide collectives with their heavy equipment on call, have been the main instrument of Communist control in the countryside. Experts at the stations keep close economic and political tabs on the peasants in their areas.

Khrushchev proposed to eliminate the stations in a speech last month at Minsk. It was made immediately after a secret meeting with Gomulka.

Gomulka's greatest success since he won control of the Polish party in 1956 has been the upsurge in food production. This has been achieved largely by cutting back state and collective farms

Ohio Draft Dodger Gets 2-Year Sentence

COVINGTON, Ky. (AP)—U. S. District Judge Mac Swinford Wednesday sentenced John H. McFarland, 25, of Middletown, Ohio, to two years in prison for failure to report for induction into the Army.

Victor Schmidt, attorney for McFarland, said the conviction would be appealed on the grounds constitutional rights were violated when the FBI failed to turn over case files.

Congressmen Asked To Halt Dairy Prop Cut

OXFORD (AP)—Joseph W. Fichter, chairman of the Ohio Farmers Union, said today he had sent letters to Ohio congressmen urging legislative action to stop the secretary of agriculture from reducing price supports on dairy products to 75 per cent of parity on April 1.

"This reduction would result in an average loss of $400 a year to each dairy farmer in Ohio," Fichter said.

Manufacturer Price-Setting Debate Revived

GE Abandons Policy Of Fair Trade, Gives Retailers Free Rein

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—One of the hottest disputes in the retailing world — whether the manufacturer should fix prices under Fair Trade laws — has popped onto front pages again.

General Electric, one of the foremost proponents of such price setting, is throwing in the towel after a long and costly battle in the courts against merchants who flaunt its policy.

It says retailers can now set their own prices on all its small home appliances except flash-bulbs. Several years ago the company stopped suggesting retail prices for its large home appliances.

Next thing to watch is whether this will lead to price wars among the stores — with consumers picking up bargains, just as they do in gasoline price wars. If so, the effect could be widespread in the appliance industry.

The battle over Fair Trade has been particularly hot since the rise of the discount houses. But it has flared in the courts, in Congress and in various state legislatures for years.

Fair Trade laws still exist in 32 states. A number of manufacturers are still staunch advocates of Fair Trade and GE's action may or may not affect their policies.

After a series of defeats in state courts, advocates of Fair Trade — notably the National Assn. of Retail Druggists — are urging Congress to pass a federal law sanctioning the policy.

Most state Fair Trade laws permit the manufacturer to force all retailers in the state to sell its products at fixed prices, if such a practice has been fixed in a contract with at least one retailer in that state. Courts in 11 states have held this provision unconstitutional.

Advocates of Fair Trade argue that the manufacturer has the right to protect his brand from being downgraded through price wars.

Foes of Fair Trade say that it is only a price fixing scheme that squelches competition and that the consumer suffers.

Fair Trade got its big boost in the depression of the 1930's when most states set store price floors to protect small business firms. Only Vermont, Texas, Missouri and the District of Columbia have never had Fair Trade laws.

A federal law passed during the depression was held unconstitutional in 1951 by the U. S. Supreme Court as applying to goods moving in interstate commerce. Price cutting wars broke out that summer and in 1952 Congress passed the McGuire Act permitting states to set up their own Fair Trade laws. Thirty five did, but three dropped them last year. Westinghouse abandoned its Fair

Jet Bomber Crash Kills 4 Crewmen

LANCASTER, Ohio (AP)—A six-jet RB47 reconnaissance bomber, beginning its descent for a landing at Lockbourne Air Force Base near Columbus, Ohio, suddenly plunged to earth and exploded six miles south of here Wednesday. All four crew members were killed.

The dead, all first lieutenants, are identified as Theodore L. Jenner, 26, of Evanston, Ill., aircraft commander (first pilot); George M. Reiley, 25, of Hyattsville, Md., pilot; Earl N. Fogle, 27, of Pittsburgh, navigator, and Alvin B. Story, 25, of Charlotte, N. C., an additional pilot aboard for training.

The plane, which was on a routine training flight, had been in contact with the Lockbourne control tower and had been cleared for an instrument let-down from a high altitude to a normal landing approach. The crew members reported no difficulty.

Witnesses said the plane roared low over a hill and plunged almost straight down, crashing a few feet from an unoccupied house and 200 feet from a pressure gas line of the nearby Ohio Fuel Gas Co. pumping station.

The impact and explosion left only unrecognizable pieces of metal and opened a 28-foot crater.

The blast hurled wreckage over a 170-yard area. Nearly a mile away, flaming wreckage started a fire in field. The unoccupied farm house was heavily damaged. The plane was part of the 28th Reconnaissance Wing stationed at Lockbourne.

Lts. Jenner, Storey and Fogle were married and each had one child. Lt. Storey lived at Obetz, near Lockbourne. The other two families live on the base. Lt. Reiley, a bachelor, lived in Columbus.

Saxbe said such entrance requirements may be met either before a student is admitted to the school or made up after his enrollment. But studies pursued to meet entrance requirements would not be applicable toward a degree, Saxbe pointed out.

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

Probably in no single year were as many covered bridges included in a replacement program as in 1911, when the county commissioners, decided that five of the old timers must be replaced with steel structures.

One was over East Fork o. Paint Creek, just west of Bloomingburg on Route 38 another on the Lewis Rd., a short distance west of the Bloomingburg-Midway Rd. (now 38); one was over Main Point on the Prairie Rd., near Hidy Schoolhouse; the fourth over Rattlesnake Creek on what is now U. S. 22 west and the fifth over Rattlesnake Creek on the Snow Hill Rd.

All of the bridges were regarded as in dangerous condition, and traction engines had been forbidden to cross the structures. The one over Rattlesnake Creek on the Wilmington Rd. had a cable attached to it (and then to a tree) to help support it.

When the replacing was done 47 years ago the county paid for the structures. That was before the state had taken over any of the main highways.

EMPIRE OPERA HOUSE

It has been upward of a half century since the Empire Opera House, a makeshift structure which occupied the site of the Standard Oil Co., W. Court and Hinde Sts., and the Albers Supermarket building, was in use.

The Empire fronted on Court St. and extended back to the alley. It was some 60 feet in width.

Forty-seven years ago about this time of the year the National Stock Co. had arrived for a week, and prices were 10, 20 and 30 cents.

The first of the series of plays was "Reaping The Harvest".

COURTHOUSE LAWN LIGHTS

It has been 30 years since the county commissioners, in response to many requests for lights on the Courthouse lawn, let a contract for six standard lights of 500 candle power which illuminate the lawn fairly well, considering the thick leaves on the trees in the summer time.

Contract for the lights was let to the Dayton Power and Light Co. at a cost of $643.20, and the lights were erected in the spring of 1928.

Two of the lights were placed on each side of the walks on the south, west and north sides of the lawn, and they have done much to protect the Courthouse from burglars and mischief generally.

The lights have added much to the appearance of the county building after nightfall, and provide a great deal of illumination in spots where trees previously had darkened the sidewalks and lawn.

THE REAL TEST

In an advertisement in the Daily Herald in January of 1911, Moore and Jamison were telling of the virtues of the Davis automobile, and prominent in the advertisement were the words:

"Car will climb Bray's Hill on high, or no sale."

THIRTY YEARS AGO

Fred Joyce, sentenced to 4½ years in the Ohio Penitentiary for perjury in a case in Common Pleas Court here, appealed to the Ohio Supreme Court to review the case. He was implicated in a confession by George Schumacher, also of Columbus, who admitted having been hired to give false testimony. During trial of the case former Judge D. C. Badger, also former mayor of Columbus and attorney in the case, committed suicide in his office.

William T. Hanna, 91, well known Madison Mills resident, died.

All high school basketball teams in the county were entered in the tournament.

Snowflakes three inches long and two inches wide fell here.

Plans were made to relocate U. S. 22 (then State Route 10) from this side of Johnson's Crossing, to east of New Holland in order to eliminate four railroad crossings. Plans later were changed to eliminate only the crossing at Johnson's and immediately east of Compton Creek.

A great amount of road tarring was planned for the year.

A chicken thief, arrested by Sheriff Richard Ramsay, sought to escape by running and ran out of one of his shoes. He was recaptured and later sent to the Mansfield Reformatory.

The dirigible, Los Angeles, was in flight from Lakehurst, N. J. to Cuba and the Panama Canal.

Robbers held up a train near Chicago, obtained $122,000. Within 24 hours 24 persons were arrested and part of the stolen money recovered.

Orville Wright, in a bitter denunciation of Smithsonian Institute claims, insisted he built the first airplane that was flown.

"Meanest thief" stole blind pension funds from Malinda Greer. A short time before he had held up and robbed blind James Knisley. Later the offender was arrested

New Flash Bulb Said Self-Powered

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Battelle Memorial Institute has developed an experimental photoflash bulb which contains its own power supply, but don't rush out and try to buy one.

Dr. John Mcallum, leader of the Battelle research team that develops the new self-powered bulb, said there are no present plans to produce the bulb commercially. He explained:

"The bulb is simply the end product of our research to determine how compact and simple a power cell we could build."

The flashbulb contains within its metal base a tiny, relatively simple primary cell composed of alternating thin layers of magnesium foil, absorbent paper and silver-plated copper. This "sandwich" is wrapped around the interior of the standard metal base of the bulb, thus forming a liner in the base which provides one square-inch of cell surface to generate power.

The miniature cell, Battelle reports, begins to produce power when a few drops of water are used to moisten the base of the bulb. It will continue to produce enough power—for about 20 minutes—to flash the bulb momentarily. Experimental bulbs produced have ranged in size from the so-called midjet bulb up to the standard No. 5.

The tiny power cell developed by Battelle is modified and miniature version of the type developed during World War II to power emergency radio transmitters packed with life rafts.

Mas a Tierra, the island off the coast of Chile where Robinson Crusoe supposedly lived, is now chiefly a haven for specially built schooners which go there to harvest its famous lobsters.

Eight Teams Have Entered

Freshman Cage Tourney To Start Here Monday

Freshmen basketball teams from eight schools will start a double-elimination tournament in the Washington C. H. High School gym at 6 p. m. next Monday.

The plans have all been completed and are now down on papers and sent to the officials of the eight schools.

The first game will bring together er the teams from Madison Mills and Greenfield.

The second, which is scheduled to start at 7:15 p. m. will pit the boys from Wilmington and Bloomington.

The third, to start at 8:30 p. m. will be by the freshmen of Washington C. H. and Little Miami (Morrow).

The fourth, set for 9:45 p. m. will be between the Cedarville and Fairfield (Leesburg) freshmen.

The second night's games, on Wednesday, will bring together the winners of each bracket and the losers of each bracket.

The third round of games is scheduled for Thursday, the fourth on Saturday and the finals on Monday, March 10.

Trophies will be presented to the winner and the runner-up.

THE RULES and regulations are simple. All players must be high school freshmen, the maximum age is 16 years, the entry fee is $4 per school, WHS Athletic Director Fred Domenico will be the official scorer and James York of the WHS faculty will be the timer.

With four games a night, each period of the games will be seven minutes, except for the final, for which the periods will be eight minutes.

The Greenfield, Bloomington, Little Miami and Fairfield teams have been assigned to the girls locker rooms and those from Madison Mills, Wilmington, Cedarville and Washington C. H. to the boys locker rooms.

These teams will be put together especially for this tournament, because most of the boys have been playing with reserve varsity squads of their schools. A few have been on varsity squads.

Ohio Scouts Second In U. S. Rifle Shoot

WASHINGTON (AP)—A team from Washington, Pa., was announced as the winner of the second annual rifle tournament conducted by the Boy Scouts of America and the National Rifle Assn.

The rifle association said the rifle team of Explorer Post No. 9 of the southwestern Pennsylvania city placed first with a score of 1,527 points out of a possible 1,600. Second place was taken by Explorer Post No. 6, Springfield, Ohio, with 1,474 points.

Little League Meeting Monday

Although the frost is not yet all out of the ground, planning for next summer's Little League baseball program will be started next Monday night.

A meeting of parents, sponsors, managers, umpires and all members of the Little League Assn. (the adult supporters) has been called for 7:30 p. m. in the Dayton Power and Light Co. auditorium by George Finley, league president.

Topping the agenda for the meeting is the election of officers who will guide the Little League through the coming season.

A financial report of last year's operations will be made by O. D. Farquhar, secretary-treasurer. This report, it was noted, will form the basis for planning the coming summer program.

Present officers of the Little League Assn. are Finley, the president; Farquhar, the secretary-treasurer; Joseph Peters, vice president; B. M. (Mac) Marlin, players agent; and Max Lawrence, the commissioner.

THERE also will be a wide open discussion of the Little League rules and regulations, but indications now are that the changes, if any, will be few and minor.

This will be the third year for the Little League program here. And in that short time it has provided baseball, with its keen interest and careful adult supervision, for around 200 boys of elementary school age.

Last year there were six major league teams and 10 minor league teams. Each major league squad carried 15 boys on its roster. They were sponsored by the Coca-Cola Bottling Co., Sunshine Laundry, Med-O-Pure Dairy, Record-Herald, Mac Dews Real Estate Agency and the Kohn Insurance Agency.

The 10 minor league squads—some of them had more than 15 boys on their rosters—were made up of boys, who were either too young or still too immature to make the major league squads.

According to the ancient Salic Code of Laws, proclaimed by King Clovis in the Fifth Century, a woman cannot become the ruler of France.

Lots of Fish Being Caught On Third Floor of Coliseum

NEW YORK (AP)—A small boy with big eyes pulled a 10-inch brown trout from the bubbling waters. Excited, he looked around to mark the spot.

"Just past post R-7," he yelled to his red-jacketed buddy. "Underneath the third neon light."

Out from a big yellow banner screamed: "Trout stream. Catch 'em and keep 'em and check 'em. Win a free vacation."

This was the third floor of the New York Coliseum Tuesday, where fishermen elbowled for a turn in the traffic jam about a steel tank 70 feet long by 12 feet wide.

For a fee (75 cents for adults, 30 for children) a fisherman gets rod, bait and eight minutes of hope. He keeps what he catches.

Each fish that is caught is placed in a plastic bag by one of the young men who work at the "stream." Each is tagged, a requirement of the New York State Conservation Department.

As the fish are privately grown from a privately-stocked pool, it is permissible to fish out of season without a license. The usual 10-fish limit is not enforced.

In fact, a truck driver from Flushing stopped in on his lunch hour after making a delivery and left with 18 fish.

This is eye-witness stuff. In three eight-minute periods, he took in 18 trout, 10 of them in one period. They weighed 6½ pounds.

Glen Hyder, the supervisor for owner Bill Baird of Newark, Ohio, said they put in about 1,000 fish a day and 4,000 will be caught before the show closes Sunday. The largest so far was 2 pounds 7 ounces.

Few Royal Canadian Mounted Police are still mounted. On the job, automobiles and airplanes serve as their steeds. But when picked lads from all Canada arrive at Regina, Sask., to learn the skills of modern police work, the tradition of the saddle is not forgotten.

Jeff Loses Tournament Bid

By JACK AYER
Jeffersonville's County - Champ Tigers came from nowhere in the final quarter Wednesday night, practically snatched a victory, then returned from whence they came as Huntington, the Ross County champ, knocked them out of sectional tournament competition, 69-60, at Pikeston.

Showing the sort of style they used to put out a 19-2 record during the season, Huntington parlayed a lead-off offense, good shooting and excellent rebounding into the first-round victory. Their triumph earned them the privilege of meeting seeded Lynchburg (23-1) in a second-round game Saturday night.

Coming from as far as 35 points behind, Jeffersonville parlayed their own aggressive offensive play and good rebounding into a flaming out-from-under scoring drive in the third and fourth quarters.

Their campaign was so successful that they led Huntington, 52-51, about halfway through the final frame. But it couldn't last. The Ross County team, rolling past them again, poured on all the might they could muster to keep them on the short end.

IT MARKED the end of the line for the Jeffersonville squad, winner of the county tournament championship and first place in the county league. The last Fayette County Class A squad to retire, Jeff closes with a 16-9 record, including a 10-2 mark for the last 12 games.

Huntington started out with a quick, long lead that looked like it might serve to end things early for the Jeffersonville squad. Hitting with unseemly accuracy, they ran away to a first-quarter margin of 26-11, and the several hundred Jeff fans at the game began to wonder if they shouldn't pack up and go home.

Wisely, they didn't. The Tigers began to drive back in during the second quarter and give indications of what was to come. By the end of that period, Huntington's margin had been cut to 27-27.

Jeff started slowly in the third period, but ended with a flurry of scoring that carried them to the short end of a 47-41 third quarter score. The drive kept right on going into the final frame.

It was Manford Sizemore who dropped in the winning point, on a set shot from the corner. The Tiger fans were on their feet screaming as he put the team out in front, 52-61.

BUT IT DIDN'T LAST. Larry Workman, who started slowly himself but picked up as the game went on came through for Huntington at the crucial juncture. He scored a field goal that put them back in front, and scored on more plus a rash of foul shots between them and the end of the game to keep the team in the lead.

With the score 53-52, it was the foul shooting that did the real damage to Jeff. Huntington was able to pick up a couple more points for a half-safe lead, then started to hang onto the ball. Jeff would try take it away, foul someone in the process, then watch as the sharp-eyed Huntington boys made two shots in succession.

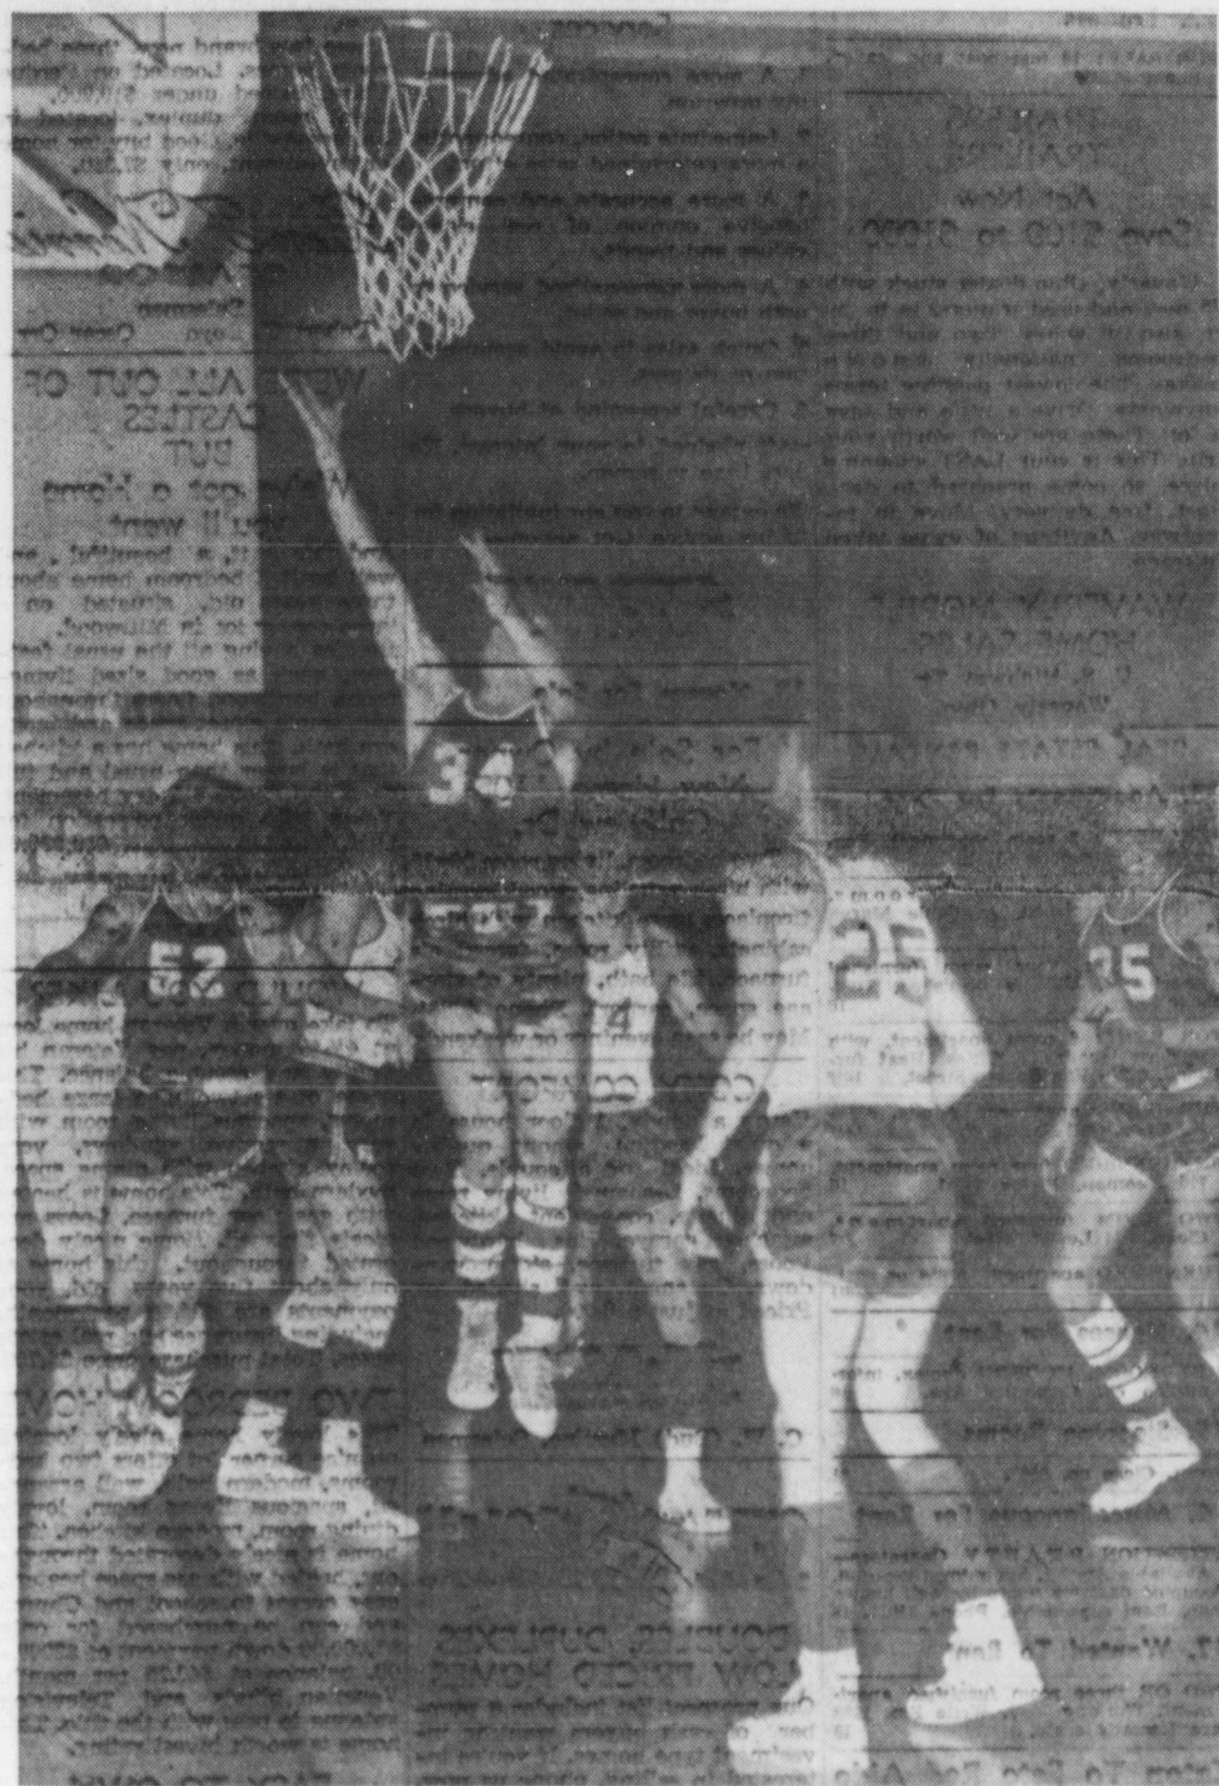

Four boys—Alva Hanners, Dave Groves, Manford Sizemore and Ron Jordan—fouled out for Jeff before the end.

Hanners and Sizemore scored 13 each for the Jeff attack.

The number of Puerto Rican children enrolled in New York City schools has increased from 40,000 to more than 100,000 in the past six years.

NOT FAR ENOUGH FOR THE SCORE, Jeff's Dave Groves nonetheless outran Huntington's defense enough so he could take the shot. Groves (54) was one of four boys who fouled out for Jeff in the final quarter, as Alva Hanners (52), Jim McWilliams (35) at rear, was top scorer for the Tigers with 17 points.

Three Area Cage Hopes Out of Action

No matter how you slice it, basketball teams in this area simply are not doing well in district tournament play.

Sabina, Jeffersonville and New Holland, threats during the regular season and powerhouses in their own county leagues, all lost out on their first try in district competition.

Jeff was a 69-60 victim of Huntington at Pikeston Wednesday night while Sabina lost to Preble Monroe, 88-45, the same night. New Holland lost to Pleasantville, 52-38, the night before.

THAT PUTS all three of them out of the running for state honors and leaves only one team from this area—Washington C. H. in Class A—still in competition. The Lions don't play their first district game until Saturday night, when they meet Whitehall in Grove City at 7 p. m.

Two of the Lions' Southeastern Ohio League opponents already have met defeat, just like the Class A squads. Greenfield bowed to Portsmouth East, 47-38, while Wilmington lost to Dayton Silvers, 67-45.

Hullshero will play Lucasville Friday at Clay Township, while Circleville goes the same night at Washington C. H. at Grandview against either Bexley or Aquinas.

10 Braves Fail To Ink Contracts

BRADENTON, Fla. (U. S. Milwaukee Braves General Manager John Quinn is beginning to frown just a little because 10 of his world champions remain unsigned and some of them won't even talk to him.

"Sure it would be a relief to have everyone in the fold and ready to go to work Saturday

Sabina's Golden Eagles Lose To Monroe in District Meet

DAYTON — Sabina's Golden Eagles finally got grounded Wednesday night.

The top team in Clinton County, and second in the county tournament, the Eagles are no longer in district tournament play. They were beaten by Monroe, champs in Preble County, 88-45, in a game at Dayton.

It was only the second defeat of the season for the classy league champs, who up to last week had a season record of 19-0.

SCOTT SCHLOSSER, top scorer in Preble County league play, with an average of 25.7 points per league game, was the biggest single cause of doom. He hit 20 points on offense and pecked the daylight out of Sabina on defense from start to finish.

Gerald Hennemyre meshed 19 as the team roared into second round competition.

Sabina's only other loss came last week in the final game of the tournament when Port William dropped them, 61-59. Port William plays as a seeded team in the same district tournament Saturday.

HAVANA (U. S. Joe Brown, world lightweight champion from New Orleans, considered a possible title defense against nimble Ralph Dupas today after his first-round non-title knockout of Cuba's Orlando Echevarria.

In an atmosphere packed with political tension and after spending 92 hours under protective guard from Cuban rebels, Brown calmly fired two crushing rights that disposed of the Cuban champion in 2 minutes 50 seconds Wednesday night.

There were no incidents although fears of rebel sabotage held the crowd to 12,000.

When spring training opens for the full squad, Quinn said, "I'm doing my part trying to contact all the unsigned, but if they don't answer the telephone we can't get together."

Quinn is not sure where most of them are. They are always "out" when phone calls are put through to their winter homes.

Robertson Now Leading Cage Scorers

Cincinnati Hotchpotman Nets 50 as St. Louis Is Dumped by 91-73

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Oscar Robertson, a quiet kid who plays the role of hotchpotman for Cincinnati, has shot back into the individual scoring lead in major college basketball while giving the Bearcats all but an official berth in next month's NCAA championships.

He bagged 50 points, 25 in each half, as Cincinnati downed the tourney-hopeful St. Louis Billikens Wednesday night 91-73. The Bearcats, No. 3 in the Associated Press poll, now are 21-2 and have pocketed no worse than a tie for the Missouri Valley Conference title.

Even if Cincinnati should be upset by Wichita Saturday and wind up in a deadlock with Bradley for the crown, it's a sure bet the Mo-Valley will select the Bearcats as its NCAA representatives.

Miami (Ohio) and Tennessee Tech won their conference championships, which carry automatic berths in the NCAA Tournament, but only Miami definitely is going to the playoffs.

Miami knocked off Marshall 82-73 for its fifth Mid-American title in seven years and now will meet Pitt in the Mid East regionals at Evanston, Ill., March 11. Tennessee Tech defeated Morehead 66-63 in overtime for the Ohio Valley crown, but may not go to the NCAA since three men on the squad are four-year men and are not eligible for the tournament. Morehead, the runner-up, might go instead, meeting Notre Dame at Evanston.

The Billikens, who had their eye on the National Invitation Tournament, grabbed a quick lead against Cincinnati and hung on for six minutes. After that, Oscar had 'em hanging by their thumbs, boosting his season scoring average to 34.4 points a game.

Idle Elgin Baylor of Seattle tumbled to second with a 33.8 average after a 25-day stay on top. Elgin has totaled 709 points in 21 games while Robertson has scored 792 in 23. Each has three games left.

Miami blew a 10-point lead at the half and didn't bag the title until John Powell gained a 74-73 edge and set off a 10-0 spurt with a jump shot with two minutes left. Wayne Embry led the champs with 26 rebounds and 33 points.

Tennessee Tech came from four points back in the closing minutes for a 58-58 tie at end of regulation play, then capped the overtime tussle as Larry McDonald sank a pair of free throws with 10 seconds left.

Temple, ranked No. 5 and headed for the NCAA, ran its winning streak, longest in major college play, to 20 with a breezy 77-54 job on Lafayette as Guy Rodgers scored 21. St. Joseph's (Pa.) rapped La Salle 62-47 in a battle of NIT hopefuls.

Olympic Wrestler

CHICAGO (U. S. Heavyweight Dan Hodge, Olympic wrestler turned boxer, leads 22 Golden Gloves into next Wednesday's championship-deciding bouts in the Chicago Stadium.

Hodge, 27-year-old father of two children, has caught the imagination of the fans in battling through his heavyweight title series.

Demaret To Defend Baton Rouge Title

BATON ROUGE, La. (U. S. Debonaire Jimmy Demaret began defense of his title today in the $15,000 Baton Rouge Open golf tournament with an eye on the weather and hoping for the worst.

The 46-year-old Demaret, renowned for fancy clothes and a knack of playing his best golf in the worst weather conditions, headed a rugged field of 150 professionals and 10 amateurs.

In addition to Ed (Porky) Oliver, who came from behind Monday to win the $30,000 Houston, Tex., tourney, and Ken Venturi, only double winner so far in the winter circuit, practically every top pro will be on hand.

Area Hog Men View Carcasses

Winning Barrows Displayed at Troy

Several Fayette County hog farmers were in Troy Wednesday to view the carcasses of swine shown at last week's Spring Barrow Show in London.

50 carcasses of the top winning animals were slaughtered after the show at the Braun Bros. Packing Company at Troy. A complete report was given on each carcass, giving the carcass length, back fat, loin eye, dressing per cent, per cent of primal cut, per cent off at and cut - out value.

A review of the results showed that a crossbred barrow entered by A. R. Rankin, of Route 3, had a carcass length of 30.6 inches, dressing per cent of 74.6, 51.7 per cent of primal cuts and a cut - out value of $23.16. A Duroc barrow shown by Robert Owens of Jeffersonville had a carcass length of 28.9 inches, dressing per cent of 73.3, 51.3 per cent primal cut and the value of $22.97.

A LANDRACE shown by Dr. R. D. Little of Jeffersonville had a carcass length of 31.2 inches, 73.4 per cent dressing, 48.3 per cent primal cut for a value of $21.79 per cwt.

A crossbred barrow owned by Harry Craig, of Bloomingburg, weighing 215 pounds had a back-fat thickness of 1.6 inches and a carcass length of 29.2.

The slaughter results are used to make a comparison between the actual on-the-foot placing of the hog and its value when slaughtered.

Some of those attending from Fayette County were: Gloria Cleland, Ohio Pork Queen, Mrs. Lee Cleland, Allen Sells, Robert Owens, Ray Fisher, Joe Fisher, Harry Craig, Homer Wilson, Bill Anschutz, Bill Long, John Skinner, Charles McGriff, Raymond Bishop and A. R. Rankin.

Inspection Day For Company M

Lt. Col. Edwards Visits Local Unit

Company M, Fayette County's National Guard unit, has on its best spit and polish today for general inspection of all the outfit's operations, being conducted by Lt. Col. William A. Edwards of Ft. Meade, Md.

There are other inspections through the year, but Warrant Officer Robert Goodson said, "This is the big one, and our reputation depends on our showing in it."

Preparations for the inspection have been going on for weeks, with the whole unit stimulated to help protect the "reputation" Goodson mentioned.

Administrative records, supply data, maintenance and facilities were being inspected in the afternoon. Troops were to fall in for inspection in the evening.

BESIDES Goodson, Maj. Ernest F. Shoemaker of Portsmouth, the Regular Army battalion advisor from Portsmouth and Capt. Charles Wimer, local commanding officer, were squiring Lt. Col. Edwards on his tour of the company.

"We've had an excellent rating for seven years in a row now," Warrant Officer Goodson commented. "We'd like to boost that to a superior and this year we may have a chance — but we'll wait and see."

Lt. Col. Edwards will turn in a report to the inspector general's office at Ft. Meade. An inspection board of review will examine the report and decree the rating.

Tax Data Stolen Here, Salesman Tells Police

Roy E. Powell of Cincinnati, a salesman, reported to police at 12:30 p. m. Wednesday that an old, black brief case was stolen from the back seat of his car last Thursday about 2:15 p. m. while the car was parked on E. Court St. Hotel and gasoline receipts and other items pertaining to Powell's income tax return were in the brief case. Powell said that he didn't discover the brief case was gone until he had left the city.

Launching Delayed

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. — Heavy rains and an unfavorable wind forecast blocked the Vanguard rocket launching program today, at least until next week.

Council Approves 9-Month Fund Bill

City Council approved general fund appropriations totaling $142,617 for the last nine months of 1958 Wednesday night and received a report from Ohio Water Service Co. representatives outlining planned improvements in the company's distribution system which should have a major effect on the city's fire insurance classification.

Only other legislation passed was an amendment to an existing ordinance which prohibits the keeping of livestock within the city limits. The amendment, designed to prevent hardship in case agricultural acreage is annexed to the city for expansion purposes, would legalize the keeping of livestock on any farm partly or wholly within the city, providing animals are not housed or pastured within 100 feet of a residence.

There was no other action on annexation, and there was no indication that Council contemplates further legislation on the subject unless residents of the rural area now adjoining the city file annexation petitions with county commissioners.

IN APPROVING the amended ordinance as an "emergency" measure, Council indicated that, whatever is done annexation wise, "we don't want to put any farmer out of business."

When it was pointed out that the ordinance change might prompt an owner of a large lot within the city to raise pigs or other livestock, City Solicitor William Junk suggested that the Bureau of Internal Revenue criteria be used in classifying land as a "farm"—that any thing less than three acres is prima facie not a farm.

THE NINE-MONTH general fund appropriation supplements a three-month general fund ordinance calling for estimated expenditures of $53,376 which was passed Jan. 13. At that time 12-month appropriations were made to all other operating funds.

The total for all funds for the full year is $385,400, approximately $28,250 less than last year. Included in the nine-month ap-

Begin Digging At Rose Ave.

School Construction Program Underway

Excavating equipment was being unloaded at the Rose Ave. school Thursday morning — the first step in the city school's fullscale summer construction program.

William Williams, Sever-Williams Construction Co. executive, said digging was due to begin at the Rose Ave. site Thursday afternoon "if it doesn't rain too hard," and that excavation at other sites will begin as soon as it is done there.

Taking out stumps and stripping topsoil is the first step of the excavation process, before the actual bulldozing and digging can be done, he said.

As excavation equipment moves on to another site, foundation construction will begin at Rose Ave. Various stages will proceed in that manner, Williams said.

Other projects, besides the addition at Rose Ave., are an addition at Cherry Hill and a new Belle-Aire and a new Eastside School.

Skids, Rolls Over

Russell H. Johnson, 19, of Hillsboro, lost control of the car he was driving at 10:15 a. m. Thursday on a wet curve of Route 62, 1½ miles out of Staunton. His car plunged through a fence.

Johnson's auto spanned a five foot deep ditch, smashed over a fence post, turned over completely, and landed on its wheels. Sheriff Orland Hays estimated that $800 damage was done to the 1957 auto. Johnson was not hurt. There were no charges.

Little League Reorganization Set for Monday

Reorganization of the Little League administration will highlight a league meeting in the Dayton Power & Light Co. auditorium Monday, George Finley, league president, said.

New officers will be elected and plans for the coming season will be discussed, he commented. He added that he foresaw "no major change" in the league structure for this summer.

"Unless one of the sponsors pulls out, I presume we will continue to have 10 minor league teams and six major league teams, just as we had last year," he said.

Any person who has paid the $1 dues fee to join the Little League Assn. can vote for officers, he said. Besides Finley, they include J. E. Peters, vice-president, O. D. Farquhar, secretary - treasurer, and Mac Marlin, player agent.

Good Hope Mishap Damage Moderate

Ruth E. Mick, 40, Route 2, and Delmar Otis Straley 26, Good Hope, were involved in a fender-bender mishap at 5 p. m. Wednesday at the intersection of Good Hope-Linden Rd. and Route 753 in Good Hope.

Sheriff Orland Hays reported that Mrs. Mick was turning right onto the Good Hope-Linden Rd., and collided with the pickup truck driven west toward the intersection by Straley. The truck's left front fender, grille and radiator were damaged. Mrs. Mick's auto had front end damage.

Mrs. Mick maintained that a large truck obstructed her view. No one was cited.

Ohio sales of Series E. and H. Savings Bonds for January exceeded $31 million for a 10 per cent gain over the same month a year ago. Sales in January in Fayette County totaled $72,196.

Leading the state in percentage of quota attained were Harrison, Jackson and Shelby counties with Montgomery, Mahoning and Lucas leading among the larger industrial counties.

Fayette County Chairman R. H. Olinger reported that organizations and institutions, with the exception of commercial banks, are now eligible to buy both Series E and Series H Savings Bonds. "Many churches, veterans organizations and farm groups have been asking for a Savings Bond in which they can place savings or investment funds. I suggest they check with their bank for further information," Olinger said.

The Decision That Needs No Explanation!

There are relatively few personal decisions a man can make that command the unanimous approval of his friends and acquaintances.

And among these is his choice of a Cadillac car.

For the things that inspire a man to Cadillac are simply too numerous to be overlooked.

Considered from a standpoint of its beauty—or its Fleetwood luxury—or its performance—or its craftsmanship—or its soundness of investment—Cadillac occupies a position entirely its own.

At the heart of this great goodness is, of course, Cadillac's experience in the creation of quality cars.

For more than half a century, Cadillac's sole concern in the manufacture of its products has been to make them as fine as automotive science would permit.

It is out of this unique constancy of purpose that has come Cadillac's international recognition as the Standard of the World.

We invite you to see, both in the showroom and on the highway, how brilliantly this latest Cadillac exemplifies all of these great traditions.

Whether you might choose the Sixty-Two Coupe or the Eldorado Brougham—you will find your decision beyond the realm of argument.
